EVIDENCE OF BRUTAL CRIME

FOUND IN FURNACE AT HOME OF CON-DUCTOR RIGGS

Writes Pathetic Letter to His Wife and Daughter Before Killing Himself.

Minneapolis, July 13.—A telegram to the Advocate yesterday told of the suicide of Conductor Nathan Riggs, who had been arrested for the murder of Millie Ellison. The following message from Elroy, Wis., throws further light on the case:

Nathan Riggs when arrested, asked to be taken to see his wife and daughter, who were visiting in the country. He returned and talked with many friends, being apparently cheerful, but somewhat pale. Riggs asked permission to go to the hotel to his room. With the officer outside and without locking the door, Riggs shot himself through the temple. When searched just after his arrest Riggs had no weapon. Officers from Minneapolis were on their way here at the time of the suicide.

A search by the police of the house of N. M. Riggs here after being arrested for the murder of Millie Ellison, in Minneapolis, has supplied enough evidences to convict him of the crime even had he not acknowledged it by his own act.

In Riggs' house the police found Miss Ellison's grip, which has been fully identified, while in the furnace were found the half-charred fragments of the bag's contents.

Riggs was so well thought of at Elroy, Wis., that the village authorities hesitated to arrest him when requested to do so by the police. After he was nominally placed under arrest he was allowed to go four miles out into the country to visit his wife and daughter, who are staying with friends. He returned to Elroy, Wis., with them, and was being kept at the hotel when he requested to be allowed to go to a toilet room. It has now been established that, knowing the premises thoroughly, he had searched several rooms, until he found a revolver, with which he killed himself. The police regard the case as one of the strangest on record, inasmuch as Riggs did not need money and was in a position which called for steady habits and self-control.

Riggs was accused of killing Miss Ellison with a hammer in the National Hotel, Minneapolis, Tuesday, and setting fire to her body after saturating it with wood alcohol.

The discovery was made by Albert Boardman, check clerk. He saw smoke coming out of the window of the woman's room. Calling assistance he rushed upstairs, broke in the door and, although greeted by a sheet of flame, rushed into the room, where the woman had fallen from the couch to her hands and knees.

Her body was enveloped in flames and she was unconscious. Near her on the floor lay a hammer. The couch, which was smeared with blood, was on fire. On the dresser a large bottle, which had been filled with wood alcohol, was empty. The woman's body and clothing had been thoroughly soaked with the alcohol before being ignited.

The woman's right temple and side of her face were horribly crushed by the terrific blows. She also had a long, deep laceration on the left ear. The indications were that she had been sleeping on the couch. At the city hospital the doctor said death would have been caused by the hammer blows even if she had not been burned.

At 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a chambermaid on the third floor saw a man who she declares was Wilson come running up the second floor. She saw him run down the hall and enter room 37, on the third floor, which was the room occupied by the Detroit woman.

Ten minutes later the chambermaid saw Wilson leave the woman's room hurriedly, carrying two large grips. In less than ten minutes after this the fire was discovered and the woman found dead.

DOUBLE LIFE

Was Led by Nathan Riggs, Say the Police of Two Cities.

Elroy, Wis., July 13.—"If there ever was a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde in real life, Nathan Riggs was the man," said Superintendent Doyle of the Minneapolis police, who is here for the inquest on Riggs' body.

"He had led a double life, and the wonder that he was able to keep it up as long as he did, considering the number of people who were 'wise' to him. While he was known in Minneapolis as a good church member, a model husband and father, and a respected citizen, he was recognized along the line all the way to Elroy as a bad, bold and brazen rascal."

Patrick Carroll, former policeman of Hudson, Wis., knew Riggs intimately, and he said that he did not know anything good about him.

"A little over two years ago," said he, "Sheriff Harris of Eau Claire, was murdered by the desperado, Smith, on a train which was in charge of Conductor Riggs. The murderer escaped through the window and Riggs assumed charge of everything found on the body of the dead sheriff and took the remains with him to Elroy. Among the effects were about $150 in cash, a gold watch and a ring containing a diamond valued at $2000. As the officer at Hudson, the home of Harris, I demanded from Riggs everything which he had taken from the body. He laughed at me and remarked:

"You may be the chief of police in this town, but I am in charge of this train and not subject to your orders." "He finally turned over everything to the railway officials, who in turn sent them to the widow of the murdered sheriff. It was later discovered that a glass substitute had been mounted in the ring and the valuable diamond had disappeared. Riggs was suspected of the theft, but no proof was ever obtained against him."

At the inquest yesterday afternoon the letter Riggs, the murderer of Millie Ellison, wrote to his wife on the evening of his suicide, was made public. It reads as follows:

"Dear wife: I am writing you a letter, perhaps my last letter. Whatever I am accused of, I am innocent of. I know I have done some things that were not right, but my love has been for you, and because of my action I have tried to be brave and face all. I don't think they could convict me, don't think that I would be vindicated, but this is more than I can stand. I am not myself, therefore not responsible for what I am doing. If I should die before the men come from Minneapolis to get me, then please forgive my rash act. Oh that God may have mercy on my soul I am not in my mind. I know not what I am doing. Teach Florence to do what is right, and that I die for the love of her and you. If it was only myself I would not care, but I cannot make it any worse by putting myself out of eternity."

PRESIDENT IS OFF ON A PICNIC

Demented Woman Who Wants to See the President is Still in Oyster Bay Today.

Oyster Bay, July 13.—The president and his family are enjoying a basket picnic at Eaton's Neck on the Sound today. They left in two rowboats, the President rowing one and "Ted" the other. Hampers of lunch, fishing tackle, baseballs and bats and target rifles were taken along.

"Miss Azile Esac," or Miss Elizabeth Case, with letters reversed, who made a strenuous attempt to call upon the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill but who was prevented by the secret service guards, is still here and is evidently hopeful of effecting her purpose. This morning she moved to rooms next door to the cottage occupied by Secretary and Mrs. Loeb. Miss Case was arrested in Washington last winter after failing to secure an interview with the President. She was detained at the government hospital for the insane until relatives near Boston took her away. Miss Case, according to the authorities, is demented over political. She denied that she is a relative of Mrs. Fairbanks, the vice president.

JUDGE JAMES BARGIS ACCUSED OF MARCUM MURDER TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

James Hargis

Curtis Jett

A. B. Hargis

Beattyville, Ky., July 13.—In his own behalf, former Judge James Hargis, charged with the murder of Attorney James B. Marcum, took the stand. Hargis, who was the first witness for the defense, told the story of his life in Breathitt county, and how he had risen from a poor boy to a man of wealth and position. He described his whereabouts when Marcum was shot. He saw Tom White come out of the door of the courthouse just before the shots were fired.

Witness said he had no intimation that Marcum was to be killed, and said he had never spoken to Curtis Jett or any other man with reference to the killing of Marcum or any other person. He said Moses Feltner never received any money from him not to testify against him. He said Feltner wanted him to prepare affidavits for Sam Fields and Russell Suttlen, but that he declined to do so. Judge Hargis asserted that the statement of Asbury Spicer was absolutely false.

In fact, witness said no conversation ever occurred between him and others with reference to Marcum. The witness referred to commonwealth witnesses as "floaters" and men who lurked about town, and it was necessary for the court to admonish Hargis on several occasions and instruct the jury not to consider such testimony. Hargis reflected several times on the character of Attorney Adams, and Judge Dorsey sent the jury from the room while Adams took the defendant over the rack. Attorney Young, for the defense, objected to this, but the court ruled that Hargis had made a serious reflection against the commonwealth's attorney, and he believed Adams should be permitted to defend himself.

Hargis was questioned by Attorney Byrd on cross-examination. He said he had no ill feeling against Marcum as a result of the contested election cases, but he said they never spoke after the indictment for criminal libel was returned against Marcum. He did not secure an indictment against Feltner because he did not feel that Feltner could stand, any one.

Beattyville, Ky., July 13.—B. J. Ewing, who was standing in the court house door talking with J. B. Marcum when the latter was murdered by Curtis Pett and "Tom" White, was the star witness for the commonwealth at the trial of James Hargis and Edward Callahan for the murder of Marcum. Ewing was a deputy sheriff under Callahan and a close and trusted friend of Judge Hargis. He said Judge Hargis was quite confidential with him and told him of many of his troubles and ambitions. He said Hargis had asked him why he did not kill Marcum one night when the latter had remained at his house all night.

"Next time you get a chance take that fellow on a walk and return without him," Ewing said he understood Hargis to mean that he wanted him to kill Marcum, but he did not take the hint. He said Hargis had after the murder of Marcum asked him to resign as deputy sheriff, so that he could sit on a jury that might try the men accused of his murder.

Attorney Young, for the prosecution, attempted to make light of Ewing's story, and was rebuffed by Judge Dorsey. Ewing declared that he had identified Jett and admitted that he was the first to reveal the names of the assassins. He was also asked if his hotel had not been burned to the ground shortly after he had made the admission which resulted in the arrest of Jett, and White said that it had been burned and that he had been forced to leave Jackson for fear of assassination. Other witnesses who told of parts of the plots to take the life of Marcum were John T. Noble, who was a clerk in the Hargis store; Ezekiah Combs, E. L. Noble, N. B. Combs and others. The widow of the murdered man, with the boy whom the father had carried to and from his office with his arms around his neck to ward off the bullets of the assassins, who feared killing the child, was in the court room.

Hargis took a deep interest in the proceedings, while Callahan, as usual, was listless and gave little attention to what was going on. Judge Dorsey made several rulings that greatly disappointed the Commonwealth, and several times at attorneys registered avowals.

Curtis Jett, the self confessed assassin of Marcum and Cockrill, arrived here Tuesday night from the Frankfort penitentiary in charge of prison guards. He was brought here to tell the story of the assassination of Marcum and of the plots formed by Hargis and Callahan to have him killed. Jett's story was given in these dispatches in yesterday's Advocate.

Davenport who had steadily denied his guilt and who was convicted on purely circumstantial evidence, made a full confession. Davenport's little education led to his undoing. Thomas' life was insured for $1,000 in Davenport's favor. A white woman was also involved.

IN MIDAIR

Hawthorn Hung, His Clothing Ablaze
Until Rescued by Fire Department—Will Recover.

Jackson, Miss., July 13.—C. W. Hawthorn was rescued from an awful fate by the hook-and-ladder corps, with the assistance of the regular members of the Fire Department, who, soon after responding to an alarm, turned the hose on Hawthorne, who was helplessly hung in midair on a live wire, with his clothes enveloped in flames.

Hawthorne is a lineman employed by the electric light company. While strapped to a pole, 40 feet above the ground, he came in contact with the current. His screams attracted a large crowd, and a small boy had the presence of mind to turn in the alarm.

The flames were extinguished, but care had to be taken in rescuing Hawthorne. He was finally thrown around the body of the man and he was lowered to the ground, more dead than alive.

His wounds were dressed, and after a careful examination physicians are confident of saving his life.

Two fingers which were terribly burned may have to be amputated, and Hawthorne will carry other scars for the remainder of his life.

The express car turned turtle while the combination baggage, day coach and two sleepers left the rails but did not lose their balance. The track was torn up for 150 feet.

THAW'S TRIAL OCTOBER FIRST

Subpoenas are Issued by the District Attorney for That Date

STATE HAS A STRONG CASE

PROSECUTOR SAYS HE WILL GET
FIRST DEGREE VERDICT

Sturgis Will Testify for Defense—
Prisoner is Still Cheerful in Tombs Cell.

New York, July 13.—Harry Thaw will be tried for the murder of Stanford White October 1, in the court of general sessions. Subpoenas have been issued by the district attorney's office calling for the attendance of the state's witnesses that date. The state has subpoenaed Miss May McKenzie, the actress and personal friend of the Thaws. Mrs. Thaw fled to the home of Miss McKenzie the night of the murder.

The prosecution will be conducted by District Attorney Jerome in person and he will be assisted by Assistant District Attorney Garvan, who is obtaining the evidence against Thaw. Former Governor Black, former Judge Olcott and Terrence McManus will appear for Thaw. So far as the state is concerned the case against Thaw is in shape for the presentation to a jury. Officials of the district attorney's office say they have sufficient evidence to convict Thaw of murder in the first degree. The district attorney will endeavor to show that Thaw planned the crime long before the fatal night on the Madison Square Garden roof. Thaw was jealous of White's attentions and relations to Miss Nesbit before she had finally married him and out of revenge and pique he shot and killed the architect, according to the state's view of the actuating motive. Spoiled as a child and allowed to have his own way in everything which made it possible to go to any ends, with his vast fortune to satisfy any desire, Thaw found in White one who balked him in more than one occasion and whose influence at times was great enough to control the direction of the life of Miss Nesbit, whom Thaw was madly infatuated.

Thaw never could forgive White for the influence he swayed over Miss Nesbit and though White never came into the life of Miss Nesbit after her marriage the young man nurtured a bitter jealousy against the architect, which several officials of the district attorney's office think was cultivated by Mrs. Thaw.

It is related among the numerous stories floated around about the case that the defense will endeavor to show that Thaw hired detectives to follow White on the belief that White had employed a man to "do" him up.

William Sturgis will be a witness for the defense. Before he left this city Sturgis made a long statement to Thaw's counsel. Thaw maintains a very cheerful spirit in the Tombs in spite of the wide difference in the mode of living to which he had been accustomed.

BEEZEBUB

In Orthodox or Up to Date Depictions, is Barred by National Bill Posters' Association.

Chicago, July 13.—The National Bill Posters' Association dealt the proprietor of Hades a solar plexus blow yesterday. Devils in all forms, whether orthodox or profane, with horns, hoofs and tails, or the more refined creatures in evening dress, are to be eliminated from advertising matter distributed by the association.

The members came on most enthusiastically to their meeting against the last member of the family. The reason for the attack on Beezlebub was not clearly stated at the meeting in the auditorium, the strongest point made against him being that he was a suggestion of evil. It was freely admitted that he often is a suggestive figure, but the members were anxious to get on record as being opposed to him. The only descending arrow was that of H. G. Sanders of Chicago. Some members of the association were drawn into the attack on Beezlebub, who is the only demon on the devil card.

WEHRLER PLANT HAS RESUMED

MOLDERS BEGAN WORK ON FRIDAY MORNING AFTER THE INVOICE.

Mounters and Polishers Will Go to Work on Monday According to Present Plans.

The molders at the Wehrle foundry began work today after the annual invoice which has been concluded. The mounters and polishers are always two or three days behind the molders and those departments will not begin until Monday morning. The work of the molders has to be carried through the rattling room and the pieces are then carried to the polishers and mounters.

The resumption of work at the Wehrle works means much to the city, as the West End is practically dependent upon the foundry pay roll, and the recent lay-off has been a financial blow.

The resuming of work is under a scale which is perfectly satisfactory to both the men and the company, and the busy season at this big plant will soon be on in full blast.

GERMS OF HEALTH IN HARDYFOOD

For the Athlete or Business Man Proper Food is the Desideratum.—It Should Contain the Maximum of Brain and Muscle Builders.

SUCH A FOOD IS HARDYFOOD.

The business man and the athlete in their activities use up a large amount of brain and muscle tissue.

Every move one makes originates in the brain.

Motion is thought before it is action, and both efforts use up brain and muscle rapidly.

The greater the effort the greater the cost in body fuel.

To supply this waste as rapidly as possible, with as little effort on the part of the digestive organs as is necessary, is the mission of Hardyfood.

It is a natural food prepared from grains carefully selected and so combined as to supply all the elements needed in the body.

Hardyfood is so palatable that many eat it directly from the package without any preparation on the part of the housewife.

Many men keep it in their office desks and partake of it during business hours.

It overcomes that tired feeling. In the morning it fortifies one for the day's efforts and in the evening its use is restful.

FILLED

With Exciting Experiences and Narrow Escapes Was Harriman's Yachting Trip.

New York, July 12.—Edward H. Harriman, the railroad king, was near death during the recent yacht cruise from Jamaica, if stories told by his crew are correct. The Harriman yacht Sultana arrived here a few days ago after a wild trip from Kingston, and, according to reports, the yacht was nearly run down by a liner in the dark, while at another time a sudden squall off Hatteras sent it over on its beam ends.

On the latter occasion Mr. Harriman is said to have appeared in a more bizarre costume than that worn in Omaha on the celebrated occasion when the railroad-insurance-political colossus wandered out of his sleeper with his limbs encased merely in underclothes.

This was when the yacht was struck at dead of night off Hatteras by a squall. Mr. Harriman is said to have remained on deck for an hour helping the sailors until the danger was past. This was in spite of the Scotch skipper's attempts to calm the railroad king.

A few nights later the dynamo on the Sultana went wrong. While the entire ship was in darkness a big, dark shape suddenly loomed above them with lights flashing, and a clamor broke out on the deck of the yacht in an effort to warn off the liner. Harriman stood on deck and added his voice to the shouts that caused the liner's pilot to sheer away just in time to keep the yacht from being cut in two.

WHERE WILL NEW BUILDING GO UP

SEVERAL LOCATIONS TALKED OF BUT WHO WILL SUBMIT THE BIDS?

Matter of Reducing Required Frontage Will Probably Be Taken Up Later.

Where will the new federal building be located? This question is being constantly asked, and an answer is absolutely impossible. The selection of a site for the building will be made by Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, based upon bids, submitted in accordance with the government's advertisement asking for these bids for a site 140 feet front, and 150 feet in depth.

Where can such a site be found near the square suitable for the purposes? What is the necessity for such a big frontage? are questions which real estate men are asking today.

They argue that such a location could not be secured unless the bulk of the $90,000 appropriation would be spent for a lot, leaving a comparatively small sum for the erection of a building.

A number of locations are talked of, but none of the owners who was seen would say that they were going to submit bids. Among those talked of as available are the lots on which are now located the Adams Express company, and T. W. Dupler's meat market; the James H. Smith property on East Main street; the H. D. Woodbridge property on First street; the Sherwood location at the corner of First and East Main streets; the old Daugherty property, corner of Church and Second streets; the site now occupied by Brown Bros., corner Second street and the canal; the R. M. Davidson property, corner Church and Third streets.

Many of these sites will not come up to the specifications as to frontage.

The matter of reducing the required frontage will probably be taken up with the department and the number of feet reduced.

He was standing near the machine when a wagon loaded with wheat drove up and another man who was standing too close to the wagon was knocked down. HIS LIFE

Risked by Rigo the Gypsy in a Leap From Steamer—Mysterious Package.

New York, July 12.—As the big trans-Atlantic steamer Statendam was casting off from her pier at Hoboken a small brown man with a big black mustache dashed down the pier pursued by a tall blonde youth. The little brown man dodged between the outstretched arms of the dock hands and up the gangway, but his pursuer was seized and flung back. He explained that he was Charles Barnhaupt.

"I did not want to catch the steamer," he explained. "I was only trying to catch that little fiddler and keep him from being drowned. I am managing him. He is Rigo, the gypsy."

Meanwhile Rigo, the gypsy, was excitedly running about the deck until he spied Michael Heuman, proprietor of the Harlem Casino, where Rigo and his Tziganes are playing. Rigo pressed a red plush jewel case into Heuman's hand, whispered a few words and jumped from the vessel to the pier, some 12 or 15 feet below, and across at least eight feet of water. His hat fell into the river and drifted away.

All Rigo would say was: "Hush! It is private. An affair of the heart. The lady's name is sacred."

GROWS HAIR

AND WE CAN PROVE IT

The great efficiency and reliability of Danderine as a hair grower and scalp regenerator have won the confidence and patronage of millions and millions of people throughout the United States. It has attained a larger sale and is more generally used than any other article—towel or medicinal—that has ever been sold or handled by the Drug trade in this country.

DAN DERINE makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy the world has ever known. It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

NOW at all druggists in THREE SIZES, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free of return mail to anyone who sends this advertisement to the Knollton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and ten cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

TRUST GETS PART OF CONTRACT AFTER ALL

Washington, July 12.—Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte today awarded one-half of the armor plate contract for the battleships South Carolina and Michigan to the Midvale Steel company of Philadelphia, an independent concern. He has given one-fourth of the contract to each of the so-called trust companies, the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies at the bid of the Midvale company, $346 per ton. The secretary announced that later he would issue a statement embodying his reason for not giving the entire contract to the Midvale company, which was the lowest bidder. The Midvale company will probably protest.

GOLD WATCH IS GIVEN MR. KREBS

AT RECEPTION HELD THURSDAY NIGHT AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Employees of Jewett Express Their Friendship for the Retiring Superintendent.

The reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Krebs and Rev. and Mrs. Grant Jones, was held Thursday night at the First Presbyterian church.

The gathering was for the purpose of saying farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Krebs, who expect to leave soon for St. Louis, where Mr. Krebs will take a responsible position in the St. Louis Car works, and to greet Rev. and Mrs. Grant Jones who are here to enjoy a short vacation.

During the evening, appropriate remarks were made by Messrs. H. H. Leist, Ray Evans and William Wilson, and Mrs. Billings.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones responded to the remarks and Mrs. Krebs sang a pretty solo. Other selections were rendered by Prof. Gold, Prof. Fila and Miss Denlap.

Later in the evening, the Jewett employees, who were present in a body, presented Mr. Krebs with a beautiful gold watch. Upon the request of the chairman, Rev. Mr. Jones presented a check with a few dollars. Mr. Krebs was too overcome to speak, and he managed to express his appreciation of the good feeling which prompted the gift and to express his thanks for the beautiful presentation.

After an excellent lunch was served to the guests, the evening closed.

A NOBLE EXAMPLE.

(New York American.)

The death by drowning of young Hamilton McK. Twombly in Big Squaw Lake Thursday last is peculiarly pitiful. * * *

Mr. Twombly was young—only 18 years old. The money which he had, and might hope for in the future, was inherited money. Probably to him never came a thought of the responsibilities of wealth which some of our millionaire social reformers prate of so glibly.

But he did have a sense of his own individual responsibility to his fellows, and particularly to those whom fortune had not treated so kindly as it seemed to be treating him. A student in the most fashionable school for boys in this country, he had long made it his custom, with two companions, to maintain in summer a camp for poor boys, to live with them, share their sports and guide, as he might, their studies. It was while at this camp, and in doing an act of kindness for some of his charge, that he met his death.

In his attitude toward his proteges there was on the part of this young man nothing patronizing. He did not summon them to a weekly Bible class to listen to his own monologues. He did not attempt to gloss over with a veneer of smug piety a Sunday defense of the methods of trusts and monopolies. Rather he took them out into the green fields and by the clear waters, made them for the time his chums and his cronies, and in so doing, we doubt not, learned as much from them and profited as much by the association as they did. * * *

His brief life teaches all the more useful lesson in that it stands out in such sharp contrast to that of some of his fellows in wealth who, professing so much more, have in fact done nothing.

Arizona and Joint Statehood.

The House at Washington, assisted by President Roosevelt, made a desperate effort to rush through the statehood bill providing for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as one state. The people of Arizona protested strongly against the measure. They did not want to be forced into the Union as a state with New Mexico. This was well known, but the House bill denied them the right to a separate vote on the question of admission. Luckily for the Arizonaans the Republican Senate had more respect for their rights, rejected the House bill and amended the measure so as to give the people of the territory the right to vote on the question of admission.

With his incorrigible disposition to put his finger into every pie the President now sends an address to the people of Arizona urging them to vote for joint admission with New Mexico after having done all that was in him to deprive them of this right to a separate vote. It is not probable, however, that they will have more respect for his present than his former advice as to their interests. All the reasons of the people of Arizona against joint statehood are as potent now as they were in the beginning.

A Republican organ in this state says: "The public printer will be fully employed till the next session of Congress explaining how that $3,000,000 appropriation got into the sundry civil bill after both houses had voted to cut it out." There are some things done under Republican administration which even Republicans can't understand.

Mayor Dempsey of Cincinnati, a Democrat who was elected to office last fall as the result of the uprising of the people, has indicted some red-hot communications to city departments, demanding to know why things are permitted to drag along as they have been. Cincinnati evidently has a mayor who is determined to see the city gets what it pays for instead of paying dearly for public improvements made with a view to strengthen the political machine. He knows what he was elected for.

THE JUMBLE

Another Novel of Exposure by Tonup
Clairin, Muck Raker, in St.
Louis Post Dispatch.

Chapter I.—A train was speeding westward across the Illinois prairie. The golden fields rushed by, the larks rose upon circling wings, and Johannabel Jephoxysprynx peered from the tourist sleeper, bright-eyed with the wonders of the new world. Suddenly the engineer threw the throttle back to the last notch and put a clothes pin over his nose, and there was a crash of wind-jamming as the train shot past the glucose works. There was just a blur of buildings, but in that blur a girl's sharp eye plainly discerned a tall, handsome young man standing at an open door regarding the train. It was as if lightning had for an instant revealed the face—and he, it was gone.

Chapter II.—Lucullus Leftwomphensbruzz remained so long at the outer door after the train passed that the foreman shouted at him. The young man started as if from slumber. Had it been a dream? That fair face at the train window? He went to his work with his heart thumping violently. It was Saturday and on Saturday they always made raspberry jam. Lucullus had a bot-fire under the cauldron, and had already poured in the water. He now proceeded to throw in 10 pounds of goat horns, an equal quantity of old rubber boots and 20 bushels of corn. When it began to boil he opened the drain pipe from the frog pond and let in 30 gallons of pond water, tadpoles and bilge-fattened batrachians. Ten minutes later he added five barrels of pokeberry juice to get the raspberry color. Then he turned off the gas and the raspberry jam began to cool.

Chapter III.—Johannabel spent her last penny for a paper, and burrowed into the want ads. Her sharp eye was quick to detect the vacancy at the glucose works. She proceeded thither, was signed at $4 a week, and was walking through the yard at the foreman's heels when she happened to look up at one of the windows. If a thunderbolt had fallen from the sky and bounded into the window it could not have staggered two persons more than Johannabel and Lucullus were staggered by that glance. It was a case of both "It is he!" and "It is she!" Johannabel went on to her work. She was to cook olive oil. The foreman showed her how to do it. First, he lighted the gas burner. Then he got a bale of soapweed and a bundle of greasewood. Throwing these into the kettle, he poured in five gallons of dishwater consommé. Permitting it to come to a boil, he added 10 pounds of axle grease followed closely by a watch dog and an old automobile tire. The whole was permitted to boil until dissolved.

Chapter IV.—Lucullus looked from the window toward the door which had closed upon the fair stranger. Would she reappear? As he looked, the door opened and she came forth. "What is the matter?" he asked, making bold to meet her in the yard. "I don't think I have any heart for the work," she said. Then fate took the hand of the man and the hand of the maid and merged their two ways into one.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

A London woman had a painting which she believed to be by Turner and offered it to several dealers, who said it was nothing like Turner's work and refused to buy it. Later she found documents which proved it to be a genuine Turner and within a week she sold it for $12,250.

HELP TO MAKE OTHERS HAPPY

FUNDS AND PROVISIONS ARE BADLY NEEDED BY SALVATION ARMY.

Outing For Mothers and Children Will Take Place at the Park in a Few Days.

Do you want to make others happy and bring pleasure and gladness into the lives of some of the little ones? Then here is your opportunity.

Money is coming in very slowly for the children's outing by the Salvation Army next Wednesday and only a few more days remain in which to obtain sufficient money to make this successful, and many things are needed.

Captain Wilson desires it to be distinctly understood that there will be no charge for admission to the park, or to see and enjoy the sports and fun. And there is going to be lots of it. A full list of races and contests with prizes will be published in the local papers Tuesday next. But will you help?

We need a baseball outfit, tennis, football, croquet set and ropes for swings. Will some one kindly donate these? They need not necessarily be new. You may have them stored in your cellar or attic, and here's the opportunity to do good with them.

Then again, food or provisions. Just think what it will mean to feed with sandwiches, cake, pie, fruit and ice cream, 200 hungry children left loose for the day. You stand aghast at the proposition. You may not be able to give a lot, but every little counts and if you can put up a basket of sandwiches or give a dozen or so oranges, lemons or bananas, or a few pounds of sugar, or some cakes or pies. We shall be very pleased to call and fetch them on Tuesday. But please do something to help us in this effort; we are relying on you to make it a success.

Kindly let us know what you can do or give either by postal card to Captain Wilson, 116 Jackson street, or by new telephone Red 9552.

Tickets will be given out to mothers of poor families who have not yet received them at the army hall Monday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

Telegraphers to Meet.

The telegraphers of the Wheeling division will meet in Wheeling Sunday, July 22, when steps will be taken to extend relief to the operators of Maryland, whose salaries were cut in accordance with the legislature cutting the working day down to eight hours.

Revision of Rules.

The Rules Committee of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad of which Superintendent W. C. Loree, superintendent of the Wheeling division, is a member, met in Pittsburgh, when there was a general discussion of the revision of the present rules, and it is probable that late changes will be decided upon to make the rules of the road up to date. This committee was appointed by General Manager Thos. Fitzgerald at the Deer Park meeting about a month ago, and this was the first general meeting since that day.

Airbrakes on Cars.

Notices have been posted regarding the increase in the number of air-braked cars required per freight train by the recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission, which becomes effective August 1. It is stated that hereafter it will be necessary to have 75 per cent of the train equipped with air in good order, instead of 50 per cent as has been the requirement heretofore.

Chief Engineer Dickson.

Chief Engineer Dickson and party arrived in Newark in their private car attached to train 167 yesterday, and will make a trip over the Newark divisions before returning east. Mr. Dickson will probably return to Baltimore Saturday.

GARDENING

WE DO THINGS DIFFERENTLY AT THIS STORE---THEREFORE, WE OFFER AN UNUSUAL SALE

PROGRESS is the rule of this store. We are not satisfied to move along the same old lines, and as a departure from the beaten path we announce an unusual sale.

THE PITH OF THE SALE IS THIS—We are going to do some gardening among the stocks, culling out odd lots—the ones, twos, or half-dozen lots—round up the remnants and ends of lines; in other words, we are going to “clean the stubbles from the furrows,” as James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, said

Needless to say this means bargains for you. It means an immense array of the most extraordinary bargains of the entire year, and what better news could we print with the vacation time at hand where the slim purse is felt most, when usual stores expect to reap the biggest harvest. Different here! Regardless of everything we shall quote the lowest prices of the season. Not on plunder, mind you but on good, clean flawless seasonable merchandise that you need now. It will be a great economic occasion and no woman with a spark of the money-saving instinct in her makeup will miss it.

Read the lists and see for yourself.

EIGHT CITIES OUTRANK NEWARK

FOR POSTOFFICE BUSINESS DURING THE FISCAL YEAR 1906 IN OHIO.

Postmaster Heisey and Assistant Siegfried Receive Increases, Carriers and Clerks Unaffected.

The Newark postoffice is now of the first class second grade, which advancement was made by reason of the increase of receipts, until the total was over $40,000, at the end of the fiscal year ending June 30.

This will mean an increase in the salary of Postmaster Heisey of $200 a year. He has been receiving a salary of $2900, and will from July 1, receive $3100. The salary of the assistant postmaster is increased or decreased automatically with the increase or decrease in the receipts of the office.

The salary of the assistant postmaster is fixed at one-half that of the postmaster, and of course is upon the same sliding scale. The salary of the assistant postmaster is paid upon recommendation of the postmaster, but as the latter chooses his assistant, the increase is always recommended. Mr. Siegfried will therefore get an increase of $100. The clerks, carriers and other employees are not affected by the change in class of the Newark office, in regard to salary.

There are several causes which have contributed to the increase in the receipts of the Newark office. For some time the Wehrle foundry which formerly bought their stamps in Cincinnati, have been purchasing them from the local office; the Heisey company have also been purchasing stamps and postal cards abroad, while now they buy them here, and the B. & O. railroad company, which bought stamps in Baltimore, are now also in line to boost the Newark office.

The Newark office is now outlabeled by only eight Ohio cities, viz: Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Youngstown, Akron and Canton, which cities have offices ranking as first class, first grade.

BOYS APPEAR BEFORE MAYOR

TWO SENT TO STONE PILE FOR DRINKING AND DISORDERLY CONDUCT.

Saloonkeeper Fined $25 for Selling Beer—Heated Argument in the Mayor's Court.

As a sequel to the arrest of the six youths of Beach street and vicinity on a charge of drinking, disorderly conduct and using profane language, William McGuffey was arraigned before Mayor McCleary Friday morning on a charge of selling a four gallon keg of beer to Fred Sinsbaugh, a boy of 15 years of age, of Beach street. The testimony offered showed that Sinsbaugh ordered the beer from McGuffey and asked that it be delivered at the house. McGuffey claims that the boy's mother was present when the beer was delivered and that she offered ed no protest. The mayor found McGuffey guilty and fined him $25 and costs. The sentence was suspended to give McGuffey an opportunity to secure legal advice in the matter.

The case against the boys, charged with drinking the beer, was called, and five of the defendants were brought before Mayor McCleary. Early Gainsworth, Robert Bernier, the Tuesday morning who so were dismissed, witnesses in the case, Sinsbaugh and Charley said to be the ringleader demanded that warrant be issued for their arrest and then pleaded guilty. The mayor assessed a fine of $1 and costs in each case. Both boys were ordered to serve out the sentence of the court.

Mrs. Sinsbaugh, the defendant's mother, was called, and when Mr. Sinsbaugh and Charley said to be the ringleader demanded that warrant be issued for their arrest and then pleaded guilty. The mayor assessed a fine of $1 and costs in each case. Both boys were ordered to serve out the sentence of the court.

(By W. D. Nothacker.)

Lancaster, July 13.—The Links took the Slove Moulders into camp yesterday in what looked like a forlorn hope after the visitors had their first turn at the bat, when they made three runs on Watters' single, Brown's error, "Scottie" Winters' double and another error by Doc Abbott.

Business Manager S. K. Hayes of the Newark team with about a dozen other rooters witnessed the game. They were all pleased in that first inning, but their smiles began to fade in the fourth inning when Gygil scored two runners on a clean drive to center field. This brought the odds down from five to one on Newark in the first to even money, and later on the odds were vice versa.

Jack Compton was on the rubber for Lancaster and the first man up hit one down to Brownie and the always reliable little second sacker fumbled it. Havel sacrificed him to second; Watters hit to left center, Davis scoring; Snyder hit a long fly to Abbott and Doc made a mess of it. Then "Scottie" Winters put one in right center for two sacks. Drake hit to Humphreys and was thrown out; Schweitzer fanned.

In the second, after White was taken care of by Compton and Gygil, Stoup hit safe to right, Davis hit to Brown, who touched Stoup and got Davis at first on a fast double.

Nothing in the third, and in the fourth Compton struck out Winters, Drake and Schweitzer.

The fifth and sixth were both opened up with singles, but Jack tightened up and they got no farther than being sacrificed to second. It was one, two, three in the last three innings.

Abbott got a pass; Rattus beat out a bunt, Locke's sacrifice went in the air and Rattus was doubled at first; Elston hit to second and was out at first.

After two were down in the second Humphreys and Gygil singled, Compton hit to Stoup.

Locke singled in the third after two were down and was called out at second on a close play trying to steal.

Elston flew to Davis; Heller was walked; Brown hit past third; Humphreys hit to Havel and he fell all over it. Humphreys was safe, but he got Buster at second; Gygil scored both men on a clean drive to center field; Abbott flew out to left field.

In the fifth, after Abbott was down, Rattus got a life on Havel's second error, took second on a passed ball; Locke hit to right field and Elston tripled to center, Heller out second to first.

Brown beat out a bunt down first base line, Hump sacrificed, Gygil was retired by Davis to White; Compton hit a beauty to center and Buster fanned.

It seemed to be the style to score in every inning, so on a base on balls, Elston's single and Humphreys' hit Elston scored the fifth run in the seventh. One, two, three in the 8th

MORE KICKS

On Method of Scoring Games Which is Followed in Lancaster--Stroup Pitched Well.

Members of the local ball company who witnessed the game at Lancaster Thursday have another kick to offer on the manner in which the game was scored. The claim is made that Drake had two errors in center field and that Havel had four at second, making six altogether. It is also stated that only four or five hits were scored by Lancaster and that Stroup was pitching good ball.

It seems that Lancaster scorers are changed with giving hits and errors on the same plays. The stockholders of the Newark club have had many kicks to offer during the past few days on the scoring done in other cities. About the only way to avoid disputes of this nature is for the scorers to follow the rules as closely as possible. All over the circuit, the scorers favor the home clubs in hits and errors. This is probably right, but why not instruct the umpires to do likewise?

KNIGHTAGE IN CHICAGO

Western Metropolis to Be the City of Chivalry.

SOHEME OF A SOCIETY WOMAN.

According to Mrs. Isabel Garrison, leader of the movement, boys are to be drilled to be bold and chivalrous and good when they grow up and fight for the right.

Cervantes must have turned over in his grave the other day. Three hundred years has he lain in peace, and during those years the adventures of the Don Quixote whom he made to live upon the printed page have driven from England and from France, from Italy and from his own Spain the feudal practices which he was the first to ridicule.

It has remained for Chicago to do the unexpected, says the Chicago Post. And Chicago has done it. Chivalry is to be the order of the day. Knights errant are to walk down State street and on Jackson boulevard; ladies fair are to reward with ribbons and with smiles the deeds of greatness done by their favored champions. Chicago is to be the city chivalrous.

All these surprising things which are to happen to Chicago were made known at a luncheon given at noon as a farewell to Mrs. Isabel Garrison, who is to spend the summer in Europe. Mrs. Garrison is the leader in the movement for bringing the days of chivalry into the prosaic present. Eleven friends gathered with her at a table to typify the twelve knights who erstwhile sat at the round table of King Arthur and recounted the deeds of valor they had done.

When the coffee and the cheese had been placed upon the table Mrs. Garrison outlined her plans for the ennobling of the youth of the land and the beautifying of the city.

Orders of knights errant are to be organized among the boys of the grammar schools of Chicago. Each chapter is to be presided over by his majesty King Arthur and shall be named for one of the Arthurian knights, with the exception of the chapter royal, which shall be called Chevalier de la Salle.

Each boy who would be a knight errant must take the following oath: "Hereby I solemnly do promise service, loyalty and declare my allegiance to Chicago, my city chivalrous; to be her faithful knight henceforth."

Truth, gentleness, kindness to animals as well as to humankind, faithfulness and industry—these are the knightly qualities which the members of the order will be expected to exemplify.

The shield for the chapters will bear three C's, for "Chicago, City Chivalrous," and the shield for the chapter royal shall be the Arthurian shield upon an American eagle, with the words from Tennyson, "And Arthur shall come again."

Mrs. Garrison offers a prize of $25 to the boy who shall do the most for the furthering of the orders, and while in Europe she will secure a full suit of armor which shall be worn by the King Arthur of the Chevalier de la Salle.

"We hope to make Chicago a safer place to live by teaching the citizens of tomorrow the lessons of uprightness and honesty," said Mrs. Garrison recently. "The stories of the knights will take the places of the vicious dime novels, and the use of the chivalric symbols will appeal to the dramatic instinct in the boys. We do not intend to take the matter up with the board of education, but hope to have the help of teachers in forming our orders."

MRS. LONGWORTH'S PET.

A Cat Rescued From London Gamins by the President's Daughter.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the president's daughter, has picked up a mascot, says a London cable dispatch to the Kansas City Times.

Soon after her arrival in London she started from Dorchester House one morning to do some shopping. As she drove down Park lane she saw two small boys with a black cat, which they were apparently trying to strangle with a piece of string. She immediately ordered the carriage stopped and jumped out.

"What are you two young imps doing?" she asked.

"Please, miss, we think 'e's mad," said the elder, "and we are going to choke 'im, so as nobody can't catch 'idrotely from 'im."

"If you don't give the pussy to me at once," said Mrs. Longworth, "I'll see that a policeman catches you."

The gamins immediately handed over the kitten and fled headlong.

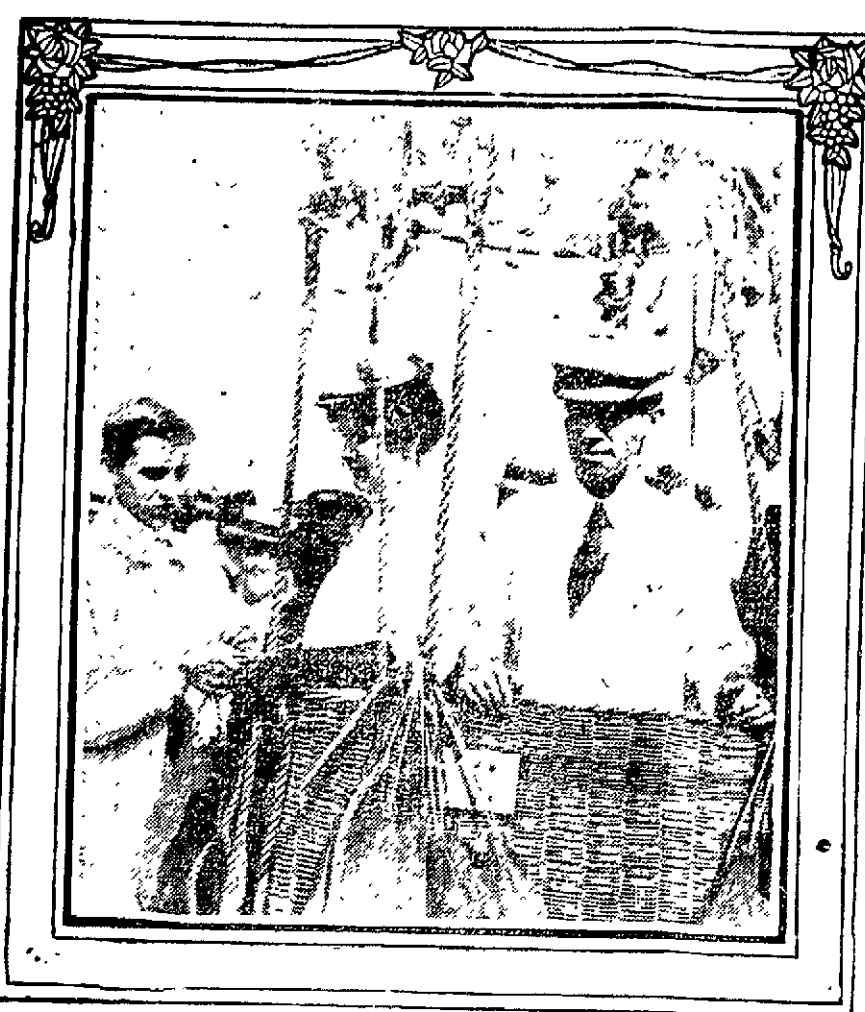

Mrs. Longworth, before resuming her shopping tour, drove back with the cat to Dorchester House. She has christened it "John Bull" and has announced her intention of taking it with her to America as a mascot. John Bull is already devoted to his rescuer and is introduced to all the aristocratic visitors to Dorchester House.

No One Above Him.

During the recent royal procession in Yokohama, Japan, in marked contrast to the seas of heads that we are accustomed to see in the upper stories of the houses in England on similar occasions, nothing but blank windows were to be seen, says the North China Herald, due to the fact that in Japan nobody is allowed to look down upon the emperor.

This is the month, says the Columbia State, when Oyster Bay has an R in it.

KNABENSHUE HIS WIFE'S SKY PILOT.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knabenshue in Basket of the Balloon.

New York, July 10.—Roy Knabenshue, owner and driver of several thoroughbred airships, took Mrs. Knabenshue out for a little spin above the clouds the other afternoon.

After showing her the points of interest in five or six counties and enjoying a luncheon while sailing along at an altitude of nearly two miles above sea level, they came down in a back yard in Pittsburg and returned to the city in an automobile.

It was Mrs. Knabenshue's first journey through the air, but she enjoyed it and said it beat automobiling "all to pieces." In fact she was so much delighted that she declared she would accompany her husband whenever he would let her go.

"You behaved splendidly," said Mr. Knabenshue, turning to her, "and on Sundays and pleasant afternoons."

whenever I have a balloon exercise, you shall go; but, my dear, I shall not take you riding in the airship."

It had been announced that Knabenshue would perform the novel feat of sending up two balloons from the Polo grounds and go after them in his airship and bring them back captive to the starting point. Fully fifteen thousand people gathered about that part of the city, most of them eager to pay their fifty cents to go inside the enclosure, but they were all disappointed. At the last moment Captain Cottrell and Inspector Sweeney decided it would be unlawful to charge an admission for such a show on Sunday, so Knabenshue put his airship back in its stable and gave the crowd a fine balloon ascension for nothing.

MAN WHO WILL DESIGN YANKEE SOLDIERS' UNIFORM.

George V. Winter in the uniform of the Oxfordshire Hussars.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 12.—That the American soldier has the best build and bearing of any soldier in the world, that American men are the best dressed men in the world, and that American women dress so well in this country that there should be no need of going to Paris for their frocks are some opinions advanced today by George V. Winter, an English-tailored expert, who is over here at the invitation of the War Department to design certain improvements in the uniforms of the United States army.

Just what changes he has recommended or will recommend in uniforms, however, Mr. Winter would not say, being, as he is, under a pledge of secrecy. Nor would he discuss to day either the differences between the uniform of "Johnny" and the Yankee private or the

FIGHTING

Progress Between Rival Forces--Effort to Secure Peace.

(Bulletin.)

Washington, July 13.—The United States is using its good offices to prevent an actual declaration of war between Guatemala and Salvador. Such is the serious nature of the dispatches received by the state department today from the scene of trouble that Acting Secretary Bacon cabled Minister Merry at San Salvador and Minister Combs at Guatemala immediately to use their influence with the respective governments to prevent a continuance of hostilities. A telegram was also sent to Ambassador Thompson of Mexico formally requesting cooperation of that government in the efforts of the United States to secure peace. A cablegram was received today from Minister Merry in which he says that severe fighting is now in progress between the forces of the two countries on the Salvadorean and Honduran borders of Guatemala.

HASTENED

To Kiss Father Good-By Child Found He Had Just Taken His Own Life.

Richmond, Va., July 13.—Leaving her little playmates in the street and running upstairs to kiss her father before he went to sleep, little Carrie Hundley, the eight year old daughter of W. H. Hundley found her father dead on the floor with a smoking revolver with which he had taken his life lying by his side. It is believed by friends that a temporary aberration caused by ill health, was the cause of the rash act.

He had just returned home from the State penitentiary where he had been a guard for 14 years. Hundley had been dependent for several months. Mrs. Hundley heard the muffled report of the weapon that ended her husband's life while chatting with friends in her parlor. She thought the report came from across the street and no attention was paid to it. Little Carrie came in a moment later and asked for her father. She was told that he was upstairs, and that she would have to hurry if she wanted to kiss him before he went to sleep.

The little girl started up stairs, calling for her father to keep awake until she reached him. When she saw the body on the floor in a pool of blood she ran screaming away, and Mrs. Hundley rushed up stairs into the room in which the dead man lay. A physician was hastily summoned, but Hundley was already dead when the ambulance reached the house.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. It is kidney trouble that is allowed to advance the kidneys poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to do me any good. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day."

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods of an organ, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For 25 years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Manufacturer's and Importer's Surplus Stock Sale

The Great Money-Saving Opportunity of the Year

SALE BEGINS SAT. MORNING JULY 14 SALE BEGINS SAT. MORNING JULY 14

July is the clearing month for spring and summer goods. Fall business starts up in August, and manufacturers and importers are anxious to begin the new season with "clean decks"—hence they are willing to sacrifice their surplus stocks of spring and summer merchandise. But only a store that has done good business and whose own stocks are at low-water mark can take advantage of this great trade event. In this respect we are most fortunate and we don't believe there is another establishment anywhere as well prepared as we are to take hold of and distribute these mid-summer bargains. Part of the goods have already arrived and will be placed on sale at once. The remaining lots will keep on coming daily for the next week or ten days, and we expect to have sufficient to continue the opportunity during the entire month. Remember, this is not a sale of odds and ends that have been stored away in garrets and dark corners for goodness knows how long—but an offering of new merchandise all made for this season's use. They're the very things that many of you have a need for now and would buy at full prices if we didn't give you the chance to get them at such unequalled savings. It is an opportunity that no economically inclined person can afford to ignore. SALE BEGINS SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 14.

MRS. M'DANIELS IS HIT BY STREET CAR

Crossing Track on Church Street When Car Knocked Her Down. Not Badly Hurt.

Mrs. John McDaniel of St. Louisville, who has been visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. Charles Walrath, on South Third street, this city, had a narrow escape from death on Thursday afternoon. She had been calling on friends in the West End, and was returning to her brother's home. She had started across Church street when a swiftly moving street car struck her and knocked her down. The motorman stopped his car as soon as possible and hurried back to where the accident occurred. Mrs. McDaniel had regained her feet and exclamation showed that she had been badly bruised about the lower limbs. She was brought down to the public square on the car. She was able to walk to the home of her brother, where she suffered considerable pain during the night. Her injuries, however, are not considered serious.

BIG CROWD PRESENT TO HEAR EVIDENCE

Paoli, Ind., July 13.—The court room was crowded this morning when the case of the state against the French Lick and West Baden Hotel companies was called. The action is to dissolve the charters of these companies on the grounds that gambling was permitted. The fact that Tom Taggart is president of the French Lick company has caused interest in the case all over the country. Judge Baskirk presided. The case against the French Lick company was first taken up. Demurrers to the petition of the state were filed by both companies. Immediately upon their introduction a heated argument ensued between attorneys. The judge remanded the attorneys and Attorney Alonzo Green Smith for the defense replied by saying it was part of the court's business to hear the arguments. G. W. Sinclair, president of the West Baden company and Mr. Taggart were in court. There is a large number of attorneys in the case. It is expected that the case will consume some time.

HOSE TURNED ON MAN, PREVENTING MURDER

Stream in Face Lays Fellow Out After He Had Slashed Woman With Razor.

Zanesville, July 13—"I'll kill you even if I have to go to the chair for it," said Joe Houston to Margaret Kling yesterday afternoon. The Kling woman is a domestic employed by Emma Lacy and at the time of the murderous assault was sprinkling an alley, adjacent to the Lacy property. Houston approached her and accused her of deserting him, they having been lovers up to some time ago. He slashed her twice across the throat and face and once across the hand with a razor. George Harris of the Harris Brick company, rushed from his office nearby and stopped hostilities by resorting to a novel method. Being unarmed he grabbed the hose which the Kling woman had been using, and shot Houston squarely in the face with the water.

LUCK OF THE TURF

Most Capricious Manifestation of the Vagaries of Fortune Recited by Chicago Paper.

The luck of the turf has come to be accepted as the most capricious manifestation of the vagaries of fortune, remarks the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Here are two recent instances that would seem to bear out the theory. Two years ago the late Captain S. S. Brown, a millionaire coal merchant of Pittsburgh, was sitting in the lobby of the Galt House at Louisville with Max Samuelson, his racing agent and a party of friends. They were discussing the prospects of the Brown stable, and the owner said to Samuelson:

"Max, I have had it in mind to make you a nice Christmas present, but I'll give it to you now. From now on you are half owner of Accountant and Interlight. You shall have half of their winnings and half their sale price, and be at no expense in the matter."

When Captain Brown died Samuelson told Captain Harry Brown, brother and racing heir of the dead millionaire, of the promise. Captain Harry Brown agreed to carry out his brother's promise and sent a check for $10,000 to Samuelson as his share of the earnings of Accountant as a two year old.

Interlight has proved a disappointment, but Accountant has developed into a great race horse. A few weeks ago Diamond Jim Brady bought Accountant for $40,000 and Samuelson promptly received a check for his half. As a good luck story this has rarely been excelled in the fantastic history of the turf.

The contrasting story of bad luck is the recent death of James R. Keene's Sisonby. Mr. Keene and many of the most experienced turfmen of the country believed Sisonby would develop into the greatest race horse the world had ever seen, and his death from blood poisoning is regarded as a great loss to the American turf.

Sisonby died June 17 at the beginning of his four year old career. In two years on the turf he had started but 15 times, yet he had won $14,000. He met defeat but once. Last winter Mr. Keene refused an offer of 40,000 guineas—more than $200,000—from Reed-Walker, the English turfman, and declared that Sisonby was not for sale at any price.

Sisonby died surrounded by a group of sincere mourners; the scene was very much as if a valued friend were passing away. Certainly no more tender care could have been lavished on a human being. After the horse was dead Mr. Keene said, looking down upon the noble animal:

"There lies all that remains of what was the gentlest, truest and best in a horse. In his way he was every inch a king. No greater race horse ever lived. No one will ever know how great a horse the turf has lost, nor can it be calculated how great is the loss to the breeding of American thoroughbreds."

The bitterness of the mischance in the death of Sisonby does not lie in the mere fact that a turfman has lost a valuable horse before his prime. Here was a great horse in the hands of a man of wealth and experience and enthusiasm. His career would have been arranged for him without regard for the dollars he might be able to earn. In Sisonby we had a most promising opportunity to learn how great a horse our American breeders of thoroughbreds can produce.

BUCKEYE LAKE ELECTRIC ROAD

ALMOST $400,000 WILL BE EXPENDED BY NEW OWNERS IN IMPROVEMENTS.

New Equipment Will be Bought and Track Reballasted by Trolley Car Company.

Engineers of the Indiana, Columbus and Eastern Traction company are now going over the Buckeye Lake line making estimates of the amount of money which will be required to bring that road up to the standard which will be required by the new Schoepf properties.

It is estimated that it will require $2,000,000 to put in new bridges, power stations, relocate tracks, reduce grades and build new terminals for the merger company. Almost $400,000 of this amount will be spent on the Buckeye line which has deteriorated materially in the last two years. New equipment will be purchased, the track reballasted and many others improvements made.

GOOD IS DONE BY CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

The Boston Herald in reporting the recent prodigious convention of the Christian Scientists in Boston at the dedication of their new two million dollar church, says that one of the claims made in behalf of Christian Science is that it cures the domestic nagging habit. "There are no nagging wives and mothers among true Christian Scientists" said one of the best known teachers and practitioners of that cult. "Our faith does away with nagging and the irritability that cause so many unhappy homes." A faith that will do this is surely at the sort that will "remove mountains." Yet the testimony of this witness is that she has seen "unhappy homes made happy, and tired, nervous, fagged out women made contented and rested," by a realizing sense of the truth that "peace and harmony are the law of our being."

It is an observed fact, acknowledged by many non-believers, that the disciples of this new faith, or vivifiers of an old faith, are, as a rule, contented, cheerful, courageous, patient, and even serene. So far at least, their faith is justified by its works. And among its triumphs the prevention of nagging and of the nervous irritability which causes this disagreeable habit is surely entitled to honorable mention.

The wife who is continually nagging her husband, whether about his business, his habits, his dress, his non-observance of what she regards as his religious, social or domestic duties, or anything else, will make "love fly out of the window" much quicker than poverty is proverbially (though often falsely) said to do. When the children are the victims of the nagger, not only are domestic peace and happiness banished, but the disposition of the children is in danger of being ruined under the constant rasping. The "scold" is bad enough, but her outbreaks are apt to be infrequent or at least intermittent, while nagging easily becomes a "continuous performance." If Christian Science will cure this, continues the Boston Herald, the increase of its converts is not a matter to be deplored.

It is, however, unfair to connect nagging altogether with the wives and mothers. Some of the worst naggers are men. They "nag" about the punctuality or the cooking of the meals, about the conduct of the children, the expense of the household—particularly those which do not minister directly to their own gratification—and a dozen other things that offer an opportunity for venting their disagreeable tempers. If Christian Science can subdue the chronic grumblers and naggers of the male sex it will do wonders.

NEPHEW

Of Gov. Vardaman's Wife Indicted on Charges of Murder—Juries Had Ignored the Case.

Summer, Miss., July 13.—The Talahatchie county grand jury has returned an indictment against Jerry Robinson, nephew of Mrs. James K. Vardaman, wife of the governor, for murder of Smith Murphy, one of the wealthiest planters in this section, which occurred about 18 months ago. Two court sessions elapsed since the tragedy occurred. Friends of the dead man made diligent efforts to induce former grand juries to return a true bill against the slayer without avail. They have finally won in the fight however, and Robinson will be compelled to face a jury on trial for his life.

The killing caused a sensation in the Delta, both families being very wealthy and highly connected. It resulted from a quarrel over laborers and statements as to the actual manner of killing were conflicting. Robinson at the time was 19 years old.

His father, Jerry Robinson Sr., was heartbroken and died a few months later. Nearly a dozen attorneys were retained by prosecution and defense shortly after the shooting occurred, and they are now in Summer awaiting developments.

JOHNSTOWN NEWS BUDGET

LIGHTNING DOES SOME DAMAGE IN VILLAGE BUT ALL PROPERTY IS INSURED.

Birthday Party—Teacher is Elected—Farm Sold—Personal and News Items.

Johnstown, O., July 13.—Lightning has been quite busy in the storms of the past two weeks and caused several losses in this locality. Joshua Rice has lost a valuable mare, Emmet Smith of R. D. 1, a cow; Perry Doran of New Albany, a heifer and F. D. Moore of Jersey township, a cow. The barn of Lewis Smith was struck recently and slightly damaged. On Sunday the dwelling of Charles Roby on R. D. 5 was struck and considerably damaged. Lightning also struck the chimney on the L. B. Ruppels dwelling east of town Sunday causing however but little damage. All the parties were insured.

A party was given by Jacob Fiddle in his office rooms Tuesday evening in honor of Myrtle and Georgie Mullan, the occasion being Myrtle's twelfth birthday. Twenty-six of their little friends were in attendance and were highly entertained by Mr. Fiddle and the children. The evening was spent in games, magic lantern, and other amusements. Lemonade and ice cream were served to all present. This will probably be the last play they will ever have together as children, as the Mullen children were taken to the K. of P. home in Springfield the next morning. All left about 10 o'clock wishing their little friends much happiness in their new home.

At a called meeting of the Johnstown village school board on last Saturday night, Prof. George E. Crowell of Bucyrus, was elected as a music teacher in our schools for the coming year at $7.00 per week. Prof. Crowell has a state certificate to teach music and teaches in four other schools. He comes to us well recommended, many from this place knowing of his ability, having heard him in musical recitals given here last winter.

It was at first thought that it would be necessary to amputate the foot, but he is now out of danger.

Wagner, now serving sentence in the penitentiary for embezzlement and the court appointed Rev. C. E. Richards who went to Columbus, and took Wagner's deposition.

The deceased directed that no inventory of the estate be filed by the executor, although he was possessed of a large amount of real and personal property.

A daughter, Loretta C. STEAMERS COLLIDE ON BUCKEYE LAKE

Bad Hole Torn in Side of a Passenger Boat—The Launch Ada Carried 35 People.

Lakeside, July 13.—There was a bad accident on Buckeye Lake Wednesday afternoon that shows the need of some kind of regulation of navigation on this body of water. The government navigation laws do not extend to this sheet of water and as the state has no laws on the subject there is absolutely nothing to govern the operation of boats here.

The Ida May and the Ada were trying to pass off Shell Beach about 3 o'clock when the Ada ran her nose into the Ida May tearing a hole in the bow of the latter boat big enough to drive a buggy through. It happened that only the engineer and pilot of the Ida May were on board and they managed to keep her afloat as the hole was mainly above the water line, until they got her into the nearest port.

The Ada was carrying about 35 passengers and there was the wildest alarm on board. With difficulty some of the more nervous women were prevented from leaping overboard. It a few minutes however, the crew was able to convince their passengers that there was no danger and the boat went on her way.
